For companies

Challenges in External Workforce Management

The demands on employers are not only characterized by strong globalization, demographic change and the lack of experts, but are also exacerbated by rising cost pressures and compliance requirements. On the other hand, employees are looking for flexibility, transparency and simplicity. Employers want to focus more on the skills of their employees and external professionals while freeing themselves from trivial administrative burdens.

If you have an excellent network and are recruiting your specialists in the market, you can outsource the administrative work and some of your employees to Campus Payroll for External Workforce.
